

PEAK RETREATS: Award-winning French Alps specialist Peak Retreats has added new self-catered accommodation in popular authentic village resorts – including Samoëns, Val Cenis, Morzine, Vaujany and Les Deux Alpes – to its winter 2021/22 programme.

The company can also now offer a private chef service. This is available at selected self-catered chalets, including the luxury four-star Chalet Arnica and Chalet Fontany in Samoëns.

Guests are able to sit back and enjoy the fully catered experience, French and Savoyard-inspired cuisine, and classics from breakfast to delicious three-course evening meals using fresh, locally-sourced ingredients – all in the comfort of their accommodation.

For those new to self-catering, Peak Retreats resort food delivery service is another way to make self-catering easy. Ready-to-cook meals can be delivered to your apartment on your arrival. Enjoy hearty Savoyard dishes and other French classics.

SKI COLLECTION: Several new properties have been added to Ski Collection's range of high-quality accommodation in high-altitude resorts across the French Alps, along with more luxury self-catered chalets in its Premium range for winter 2021/22.

White Pearl Lodge & Spa in Plagne Soleil is a ski-in/ski-out residence with an indoor and outdoor pool, children's pool, hot tub, sauna, steam room and fitness room.

The luxury ski-in/ski-out self-catered Chalet Cascade in Arc 2000 is an ancient farm building that has been transformed into an idyllic ski chalet with seven bedrooms (sleeps 15).

Chalets Miner, two traditional-style four-star self-catered chalets in Plagne 1800, have been completely remodelled. Each chalet sleeps up to nine people.

Chalet Bouchon, also in Plagne 1800, is a four-star self-catered chalet 300m from the slopes which can sleep up to seven.

SNOWRESORT.COM: A new holiday planning website and mobile app has been launched which is aiming to meet the specific needs of skiers and snowboarders by identifying destinations that the accommodation from top to bottom, replace towels and restock the fridge and cupboards.

There will be no contact from staff unless necessary or asked for.

OXYGENE SKI SCHOOL: French Alps-based ski school Oxygene has moved into two new resorts for this winter – Tignes and Serre Chevalier. The school has also opened a new café in Tignes – Oxygène Café – which has partnered with Caffè Vergnano, an environmentally-friendly Italian brand that supports coffee projects run by women, helping them to be economically independent.

JET2.COM: A weekly (Saturday) flight to and from Chambéry has been added to Jet2's list of ski destinations for winter 21/22. The airline's programme of ski flights is now on sale, and other destinations being served from a selection of UK airports include Geneva, Grenoble, Salzburg, Innsbruck, Turin and Barcelona (Andorra).
